

CAMPING IN BAD WEATHER TIPS

PLAN AHEAD AND PREPARE

Take the time to plan your trip and be familiar with the weather forecast and expect the worst. This will help ensure a smooth and safe outdoor adventure.

WEATHERPROOF TENT

Ensure your tent is designed for rain and wind resistance to keep you dry during storms.

WATERPROOF BACKPACK

Waterproof backpack covers or dry bags are essential for keeping your belongings dry during hikes or outdoor activities.

THE RIGHT CLOTHES

Having proper clothing is essential for staying warm and comfortable.

WATER PROOF MATCHES

These are essential for starting a fire, especially in wet conditions.

WARM SLEEPING BAG

When camping in cold weather, prioritize insulation and warmth.

FIRST AID KIT

Be prepared for minor injuries or discomfort that can occur in bad weather.
